

Applied Proactive Technologies, Inc. provides energy efficiency program design, management, evaluation and field services to energy efficiency program sponsors across the United States. We specialize in creating partnerships between manufacturers, retailers, equipment dealers and program sponsors to promote the increased sale and acceptance of energy efficient products to both residential and commercial consumers.